Paul Robert Lamarre, 78, died on September 17, 2013 at his home on Governor's Lake in Raymond, NH. He was born on January 31st, 1935 in Manchester, NH, the son of the late Frank and Jeannette (Kirouac) Lamarre. He was predeceased by three sisters; Pauline Taylor, Doris Marchand and Claire Schwertfeger, all of Manchester, NH. Paul was employed for the majority of his working years at the General Electric Company in Lynn, MA as a precision machinist who fabricated jet engine parts. He was often recognized and awarded by the company for outstanding work on the most difficult jobs and for implementing cost saving processes. In his younger years, he enjoyed outdoor activities such as hunting and fishing. He was also the consummate handyman, always involved not only with his own home projects and repairs, but also helping with those of family and friends. He had an unshakeable work ethic. Paul was a proud volunteer for many years in the Air National Guard Reserve and served as a jet aircraft machinist. In his later years, Paul (Paulie) enjoyed a more simple, quiet and humble life. He preferred to spend time surrounded by his many kind and helpful friends in the Raymond area. During the winter months, he traveled to Springhill, FL where he lived and enjoyed the warm climate. He will be greatly missed by all.

He is survived by his three children, son; Richard A. Lamarre and spouse Linda and their son Christopher R Lamarre of Renton, WA; his son, Michael J. Lamarre of Manchester, NH, and one daughter; Linda M Muldrew of Southwick, MA. He is also survived by one sister; Janet R. Lamarre of Manchester, NH and her children, Carol Tack, Paul Gagne, Denise Ranstrom and Suzanne Pugh and their spouses.

To further reflect on Paul Lamarre and his strong family values he honored his step-children Lisa Deyermond, Heidi Jackman, and Holly Bezanson. His grandchildren, Raeann Croston, Samantha Anderson, Aaron and Asa Deyermond will greatly miss their Grandpa Paul. He shared a special bond with his great - grandchildren Natalya, Anthony, and Kimberly.
