From the Thursday, October 26, 2012 edition of the Kankakee Journal:

Jack D. Oller, 75, of Onarga, passed away Tuesday evening (Oct. 23, 2012) at RML Specialty Hospital in Hinsdale, following a short illness. Friends may call from noon to 2 p.m. Monday, Oct. 29, at the Knapp Funeral Home, Clifton, where funeral services will follow at 2:30 p.m. Pastor David Fosco will officiate. Burial, with military rites performed by the Marine Corps League Detachment 1253, will be in St. Peter's Catholic Cemetery in Clifton. Memorials may be made to ICARE (Iroquois County Animal Rescue) or to the Salvation Army. Mr. Oller was self-employed and over the years had owned many area bars. He also operated many rental properties. He was born Feb. 15, 1937, in Johnston City, the son of Fred and Lillian Duncan Oller. His parents are deceased. He was a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps, serving from 1954 to 1957. He enjoyed fishing, flower gardening and building bird houses. He loved animals and caring for them. Surviving are his wife, the former Marjean Longtin, whom he married Oct. 3, 1960, in Geneva; one daughter and son-in-law, Rosetta and Ronald Hughes, of Wilmington; one son, Maurice Mascarino, of Bourbonnais; and one grandson, Christopher Hughes, of Wilmington. In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by one sister and brother-in-law, Judy and Gabe Ponton. Please sign his guestbook at knappfuneralhomes.com. (Pd.)
