

From http://www.rueggfuneralhomes.com/shoemake-ralph-"terry".php, downloaded 7/20/2011:

Ralph "Terry" Shoemake, 60, of St. Peters, passed away Jul. 10, 2008, at Missouri Baptist Medical Center in Town and Country. He was born Nov. 11, 1947, in Ironton, to the late Carl Shoemake and Bonnie (Davis) Shoemake, who survives. He served in the US Army during the Viet Nam War. He was a police road officer and a non-denominational Christian. He enjoyed bass fishing and riding his motorcycle. He is survived by a son, Todd (Tina St. John) Shoemake of Maryland Heights; a daughter, Kelly (Michael) Chitty of Belleville, IL; grandchildren, Ryan, Tyler, Nathan, Abby, and Alex; and a companion of eight years, Sherri Buck. He was preceded in death by a brother, Richie Shoemake. Funeral services were held Jul. 14, 2008, at Ruegg Funeral Home in Piedmont, with Rev. Ray Webb officiating. Nick Buck, Jeff Buck, Charles Lovelace, Tommy Lovelace, and Rick Lucas served as pallbearers. Burial followed at Masonic Cemetery in Piedmont. Online condolences can be made at www.rueggfuneralhomes.com. Condolences from: Kathie, Michael, Laura, Amanda & Matthew Warfel Condolences from: K Warfel kwarfel@charter.net Terry was so much more than a few words. A Viet Nam vet, a great cop for many years, a loving grandfather, a true friend to those he held close. Thank you for the many wonderful memories, the fishing trips, the target practice, the house painting gone awry, yellow roses - some great times. May your spirit soar, Terry, free from earthly restrictions. We'll miss the security of just knowing that you were there. You will not be forgotten. Much love, Kathie, Michael, Laura, Amanda and Matt Warfel