

From the Tuesday, January 18, 1994 edition of the Kankakee Journal:

Services for Rosetta G. Wolfe, 84, of Denver, Colo., a former resident of this area and the sister of a Bourbonnais resident, were Dec. 28, 1993, at Horan and McConaty Family Mortuary Chapel in Denver. Cremation rites were accorded. Memorials may be made for the American Heart Association, 1280 S. Parker Road, Denver, Colo., 80231. Mrs. Wolfe died Dec. 22, 1993 at the Denver General Hospital. She was born Oct. 12, 1909, in Bourbonnais, the daughter of Adolph and Anna Kerouac Gosselin. Her husband, John C. Wolfe, whom she married on June 30, 1934, is deceased. Surviving are a son and daughter-in-law, John C. and Scottie Wolfe of Littleton, Colo.; a daughter, Suzanne Wolfe of Honolulu, Hawaii; grandchildren, Kalu and Jack Wolfe; and a brother, Clement Goselin of Bourbonnais. A resident of Denver since 1991, Mrs. Wolfe had lived for many years in Park Ridge. She had been a USO volunteer.
