

From the Tuesday, April 8, 2008 edition of the Attleboro (MA) Sun Chronicle:

ATTLEBORO - Ruth E. (Hodson) Kingston, 84, died on Saturday, March 15, 2008 at the Life Care Center of Attleboro, where she had made her home for the last five-and-a-half years. She was the beloved wife of the late Raymond Kingston. They had been married for 59 years. Born in Pawtucket, a daughter of the late Ellen (Ball) and Edward Hodson, she and her family loved in various Rhode Island communities before settling in Seekonk for 25 years. After retiring from Lambert Engineering, she and her husband retired to Dexter, Maine before returning to Attleboro in 1997. Ruth was a lifelong member of the Darlington Congregational Church. She was a dedicated mother and a devoted wife. She leaves behind her children, Robert Kingston of Seekonk, Ross Kingston of Seekonk, Rod Kingston of Middletown, R.I., Raye Kingston-Kramer of Warwick, R.I., and Robin Kingston of Wolfeboro, N.H. She also leaves behind her sister, Dorothy DeLue of Glen Mills, Pa., and her brother, Robert Hodson of Glens Falls, N.Y. She was the sister of the late Hannah McGowan, Alice Zajchowski, Gladys Williams Pfefferle and Joseph Hodson. She is survived by 11 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. A memorial service will be held at the Merrick R. Williams Funeral Home, 530 Smithfield Ave., Pawtucket on Saturday, April 5 at 11 a.m. In lieu of flowers, please think about making a donation in Ruth's name to her beloved Darlington Congregational Church, 73 Downes Ave., Pawtucket, RI 02861
