

Here's the rest of the story for Tim Curwick's death:

From the Wednesday, September 19, 2018 edition of the Arlington Heights (IL) Daily Herald:

Mulkeytown man killed in wreck

A 36-year-old Mulkeytown man died Sept. 10, the result of a two-vehicle accident at 6:05 a.m. on Route 152, about two miles east of Illinois 127 in Perry County. Tim Curwick, who was on his way to work at Nascote Industries in Nashville, was the victim. According to a state police report, a truck driven by Wesley J. Borden of Columbia was eastbound on Route 152. Police said Curwick's GMC Acadia was westbound on the same road when Borden's truck crossed the centerline into the path of the GMC. The vehicles collided in a head-on/sideswipe manner. Curwick was pronounced dead by Perry County Coroner Paul Searby. Both highway lanes were closed for approximately six hours for the crash investigation and scene clean up. The state police continue to investigate the fatal crash. Borden, who was uninjured, was initially ticketed for improper lane usage.
